ROOM REQUEST

The Maidstone on Main Street in East Hampton will reopen under the ownership of John Meadow and LDV Hospitality this summer. Designer Poonam Khanna of Unionworks led a cosmetic refresh of the entire hotel. Refreshed guest room interiors are rooted in a natural palette—think earthy sand tones, warm amber and soft peaches—while updated public spaces complement the guest rooms with shades of greens and blues inspired by the ocean and sky. Luxury touches such as Frette Linens and Santa Maria Novella amenities are found in each room. “We want to honor its spirit and soul while adding a more contemporary and luxurious hospitality experience for East Hampton’s most discerning guests,” says Khanna. Chef Jorge Espinoza (Scarpetta) is in charge of the restaurant at the hotel offering new dishes inspired by the coastal delights of Italy. Some highlights include spaghetti alla nerano with fried zucchini and provolone and squid ink linguine with crab, uni, Calabrian chili and lemon. “It has always been a dream of mine to transition into the hotel space,” says Meadow, CEO of LDV Hospitality. “I’ve witnessed firsthand the allure and charm of The Maidstone Hotel as it has been a beacon in the community for many years. In partnership with ISMD, we look forward to bringing new memories to this idyllic retreat.” themairstone.com

Lifelong friends Alexander Perros, a real estate and design veteran, and chef Ryan Hardy (Charlie Bird and Pasquale Jones) have restored Greenport’s Silver Sands Motel to its glory days. The newly renovated 20 rooms, eight beach bungalows and, new for this summer, two beach houses feature lush native landscaping. Since 1957, the property has been known for its peach-and-teal exteriors, window boxes overflowing with red geraniums, nautical flags and white Adirondack chairs on a beachfront boardwalk. The rooms are adorned with lively accents of yellow, red and seafoam blue and bathrooms featuring cheerful tiles, Flamingo Escape toiletries, luxurious Matouk towels and striped Linge Particulier bathrobes. The new three- and four-bedroom beach houses come complete with full kitchens, private gardens and fireplaces. Two restaurants are on site: retro diner Nookies, with its mint-green swivel barstools and shiny chrome details, and Eddie’s for wood-oven-fired Neapolitan pizza, freshly caught seafood, local produce and lobster rolls. silversandsmotel.com

Pizza from Motorino Mobile

The award-winning Motorino Pizzeria Napoletana is expanding to the Hamptons with a new custom-built wood-fired pizza trailer available for on-demand pizza parties. Motorino Mobile offers a full onsite pizza station complete with refrigeration, tent and lights. “I’m excited to bring Motorino pizza to the East End this summer,” says founder Mathieu Palombino. “This is one of the most beautiful places I’ve seen on earth and there’s no better place for a party...with pizza!” Pizza favorites are served with special additions highlighting local fare and bounty from the East End.

Signature pizzas include a classic margherita, soppressata piccante, brussels sprouts white pizza and a cherrystone clam pie. Antipasti like meatballs and fried calamari are also on offer, as well as a prosciutto station and an Italian gelato cart. It’s as close as you’ll get to having a pizzeria in your backyard! motorinopizza.com

Michelin-starred chef, restaurateur and author Joe Isidori has opened Arthur & Sons in Bridgehampton, transporting guests back to the 1990s with “old-school” New York Italian-American red sauce classics. Standout dishes include meatball, fried calamari, baked clams oreganata and spicy rigatoni alla vodka, and the wine list features a variety of Italian wines. “The Hamptons has always been a second home for me,” says Isidori. “I spent many of my early years of my career working in the Hamptons. I have always had a true love and passion for all things out east, so it’s nice to bring a piece of my personal heritage to the community for all to experience.” The design features vintage Tiffany lights, red candles and Rat Pack-era artwork and photos. arthurandsonsnyc.com
