Best Restaurants in the Hamptons

Where to go at the season's end out east

by Beth Landman | Updated Aug 28, 2024, 4:36pm EDT

The end of August through September is considered to be the most beautiful time in the Hamptons. For many, this week is the last hurrah for vacations out east and the final chance to check out some of the seasonal dining experiences in the area. From Westhampton to Montauk, here are 19 places worth exploring while you can.

Fresno

There is a reason this restaurant has survived and prospered for decades: It has outstanding food, flattering lighting, and friendly staff, and prices have remained reasonable. The garden is ideal for August, and when the weather chills, locals flock to the inviting dining room with its cozy banquettes. Start with blistered shishitos, or peach salad with prosciutto, pecorino and truffle honey vinaigrette, and move on to local swordfish; duck breast with couscous; or pork chops with fingerling sweet potatoes.
